EXPLORE YELLOWSTONE!

ranger conducted activities 1970

To Help You Enjoy Your Trip

While you are in Yellowstone the National Park Service invites you to take advantage of the many free services offered to help you learn about the Park. The interpretive program described in this pamphlet is conducted by Park Rangers. The program has something of interest for everyone—for a family or tour group, whether you are here for a day or a week. Won't you join us?

VISITOR CENTERS

Curious about wildlife, thermal features, plants, or the human history of Yellowstone? Stop wherever you see the sign "Visitor Center" or "Museum". There you will find exhibits, slide programs, publications about the park, and rangers to answer your questions. Visitor Centers are open from 8 a.m. until early evening during the main travel season.

- Grant Village —wilderness exhibits; 12-minute slide program; lakeside exhibit
- Fishing Bridge —lake ecology, wildlife and geology exhibits
- Canyon —geology, plant and animal exhibits; 10-minute slide program
- Norris —thermal geology
- Mammoth —Indian, history, and wildlife exhibits; 12-minute slide program

CONDUCTED WALKS & HIKES

Join a ranger and explore Yellowstone on foot. Conducted trips lead into some of the most interesting parts of the park, mid-June through Labor Day. Check at any visitor center for dates when first and last trips will be held. Wear comfortable shoes or boots for the walks.

Hikes—wear boots, all weather clothes, and bring a raincoat (also a lunch and water, if it is all day). Insect repellent suggested for all walks and hikes. Don't forget your camera. Times shown below are for entire trip. Youngsters under 15 must be accompanied by an adult on all trips.
